

Goofy Index System

What three words would you use to describe a geographic information system seemingly designed by Goofy? Clocks, protect, because? That's pretty random! One site on the internet does just that – what3words.com – using three words to identify specific locations around the world, down to a three meter square.

Find the site and look up the locations below. Note down the three words associated with each place, then find those words in the word search grid.

Once you've crossed out all the words, the remaining letters will spell an additional question. Enter the answer to this question to solve the quest.
